The University Mace and Batons

The Mace and Batons are symbols of the authority and history of the University and are made from newel posts from the original main staircase of Old Main, erected in 1875, the oldest University building now standing. The Batons are carried by members of the faculty who have served as chairs of the Campus Council or the Campus Faculty. The Mace is carried by the Chief Marshal, who is the current chair of the Campus Faculty.

Marshals' Gowns

The gowns worn by the Marshals are of the traditional University color, cardinal red.

Honor Stoles

White or cardinal stoles denote students who are candidates for University honors. White represents High Honors (summa cum laude) and cardinal represents Honors (cum laude).

Academic Regalia

The styles of gowns differentiate degree level. Trim of doctoral gowns indicates nature of degree (black or dark blue—Ph.D.; light blue—Ed.D.). Certain members of the faculty wear distinctive gowns and hoods authorized by their doctoral institutions. The lining of the hoods denotes the color(s) of the institution awarding the degree. The official colors of the University of Arkansas are cardinal and white.

The color of the velvet band around the hood designates the academic major in which the wearer has taken his or her degree. Some examples are listed below:

The University Song

In 1909 a prize of fifty dollars was offered for the best poem relating to the University of Arkansas which should be capable of being set to music and used as a college song. Out of many entries, that of Mr. Brodie Payne, '06, of Hot Springs won the prize. The words were set to music by Professor H. D. Tovey, Director of the Conservatory of Music and Art at the University.

Alma Mater

Pure as the dawn on the brow of thy beauty
Watches thy soul from the mountains of God
Over the Fates of thy children departed
Far from the land where their footsteps have trod.
Beacon of Hope in the ways dreary lighted;
Pride of our hearts that are loyal and true;
From those who adore unto one who adores us—
Mother of Mothers, we sing unto you.

We, with our faces turned high to the Eastward
Proud of our place in the vanguard of Truth,
Will sing unto thee a new song of thanksgiving—
Honor to God and the Springtime of Youth.
Shout for the victor or tear for the vanquished;
Sunshine or tempest thy heart is e'er true;
Pride of the hills and the white-laden Lowlands—
Mother of Mothers, we kneel until you.

Ever the Legions of Sin will assail us,
Even the Battle in Cities afar;
Still in the depths will thy Spirit eternal
Beckon us on like a piloting Star.
Down the dim years do thy dead children call thee,
Wafted to sleep while the Springtime was new;
We, of the Present, thy Hope of the future—
Mother of Mothers, we pray unto you.

Honorary Degree Commendation

Irma Fitch Giffels

Mrs. Irma Fitch Giffels is widely respected and admired for her achievements in nutrition and home economics, as well as for her educational philanthropy and her exceptional capabilities in the business world.

Mrs. Giffels is a native of Hindsville, Arkansas. In 1925 she received her Bachelor of Science in Home Economics degree from the University of Arkansas and she later earned a Master of Science degree in nutrition from the University of Tennessee. She started her career as a science teacher in the Rogers High School and later became a District Home Economist for Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company. After five years in this position, she became Director for Home Economics for the National Association of Food Chains in Washington, D.C. During this period, she also served on the Food Advisory Committee to five major governmental agencies.

In 1974 she received the University's Distinguished Alumna Citation.

After the death of her husband, Raymond F. Giffels, she served as assistant to the president of Giffels and Rosetti, Inc., a Michigan architectural and engineering firm founded by her husband in 1925.

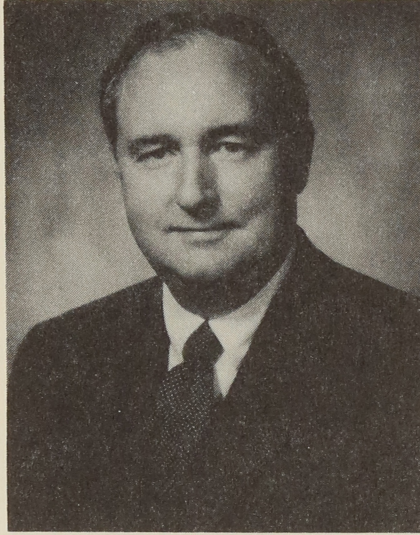

She established the Raymond F. Giffels Distinguished Chair in Engineering at the University and a scholarship program in home economics. She has been a regular supporter of many University programs and is a founding member of the University's Development Council.

Mrs. Giffels made a major gift to the Campaign to Restore Old Main, and the auditorium, when restored, will be known as the Giffels Auditorium. Across the hall from the auditorium, a restored room will bear the name Fitch in recognition of a gift made by Mrs. Giffels and her brother Larkin Fitch of Tempe, Ariz.

Because her parents, particularly her mother, had "an absolute passion" for education, Giffels left her family's farm in 1921 to attend the University, an unusual quest for young Madison County women of the time.

"The University of Arkansas probably contributed more than any other institution to what my family became and the opportunity we had," she said, adding what seems to be her family's philosophy for success: "Home and education are the two most powerful molders of what we become."

Joe T. Ford is president and chief executive officer of ALLTEL Corporation, one of the nation's leading telecommunications companies.

In that capacity, he is responsible for the operations of a company with local telephone franchises in 19 midwestern, eastern, and southern states and subsidiaries or investments in companies that provide cellular phone and paging services, satellite and fiber optic-based long-distance services, equipment supply, and other telecommunications-related businesses.

Ford began his career in telecommunications at Allied Telephone Company in Little Rock in 1959 and served in a number of executive positions before becoming Allied president in 1977. When Allied merged with Mid-Continent Telephone Corporation in 1983 to form ALLTEL Corporation, Ford was named ALLTEL president. Last month he was named chief executive officer.

Ford, a native of Conway, received a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration degree from the University of Arkansas in 1959.

Thomas F. "Mack" McLarty

Thomas F. "Mack" McLarty of Little Rock is chairman, president, and chief executive officer of Arkla, Inc.

A native of Hope, McLarty returned to his hometown in 1969 after graduating with honors and serving as student body president of the University of Arkansas, Fayetteville. McLarty joined his father in the family automobile business, and together they built McLarty Companies into one of the region's largest transportation companies, including a regional truck leasing operation and Arkansas' largest automobile dealer group.

At age 23, he was elected as Arkansas' youngest state representative, carrying every box in the county and receiving 74 percent of the vote. He later served as chairman of the Arkansas Democratic party and as treasurer in the successful elections of Governors David Pryor and Bill Clinton.

In 1974, McLarty became the youngest man ever elected to the Arkla board, and served as chairman of the finance and audit committees. He was elected president of Arkansas Louisiana Gas Company in May 1983, and became president and chief operating officer of Arkla, Inc. the following year. In January 1985, he assumed the positions of chairman of the board and chief executive officer.

The public school system in Arkansas has always been a priority with McLarty, and in 1983, he was instrumental in the efforts to bring computers into the Arkansas classroom as a teaching tool. The Instructional Microcomputers in the Arkansas Classroom (IMPAC) Commission was formed to oversee this project and McLarty serves as vice chairman. Louis Clark Sheppard

Dr. Louis Clark Sheppard, chairman and professor of the Department of Biomedical Engineering at the University of Alabama at Birmingham, has devoted his career to the improvement of health care, concentrating on computer applications that provide exemplary patient care while helping to control the cost of such care.

A native of Pine Bluff, he received his Bachelor of Science in Chemical Engineering degree on this campus and earned his Ph.D. degree in electrical engineering from the Imperial College of Science and Technology, University of London.

He joined Diamond Alkali Company in 1957 as a development staff supervisor and moved to IBM in 1963 as a staff engineer. While at IBM, he worked on advanced systems development with the University of Texas Medical Center and the Mayo Clinic.

In 1966, Sheppard joined the faculty of the University of Alabama at Birmingham, as an assistant professor of surgery, specializing in the application of computer instrumentation and technology to the health care system.

While at UAB he developed a computerized system to monitor cardiac surgical patients — a system that automatically assesses such crucial signs as blood pressure and then administers medication as needed. This computerized monitoring system developed by Sheppard is now in use in cardiac care centers around the world, saving patient lives and supporting nursing care.

In 1979, he was appointed chairman and professor of the newly-formed Department of Biomedical Engineering at UAB, building and shaping the department that now offers research and educational programs through the doctoral level. In addition to his research, educational, and administrative responsibilities in the areas previously mentioned, Sheppard also serves as a senior scientist with the UAB's Cystic Fibrosis Center.

His achievements have been recognized by his inclusion in Who's Who in the World, Leaders in American Science, Who's Who in Computers and Data Processing, Who's Who in the South and Southwest and Who's Who in Frontier Science Technology.

In 1971, he received a patent for his development of "Method and System for Estimation of Arterial Pressure."
